Creative Marquee's are so much more than a company who just put up marquees! With over 20 years in business our family owned and run company have a first class reputation for providing what you want.

"David, thank you for the completely smooth operation of marquee building and the vanishing act that happened on the Sunday. We hadn't quite anticipated how nice it would be to have the marquee as part of our lives for a few days.

The marquee was just right; the 'reveal' also worked very well, such fun to unveil the dance floor and to let the evening move into its next phase. I think you can tell that we were very happy with everything!" Isobel Allen (mother of the bride)

Weddings

Nothing could be nicer than holding your wedding reception in the grounds of your home. Creative marquees specialise in creating the most effective use of space in any given area, so sometimes what appears to be a limited space can be transformed into a wonderful setting for your happy occasion.

Our Marquee Director will visit you at your home to listen to your requirements and advise and suggest ideas if you are not sure where to start!

There are 5 reassuring reasons to use Creative Marquees for your Wedding Reception.

1. You can enjoy it all. We make it easy for you so you can enjoy the build up to the day as well as the big day itself.

Parties

The trick with holding a party in a marquee is to make it not look like a wedding!

The Creative marquee team is not only made up of burly marquee erectors! We have a feminine, mad about parties, side to our team who can offer you an interior design service for your marquee.

- We take a simple white structure and turn it into the party venue of your imagination.
- From the simple addition of coloured linen, funky lighting and perspex chairs.
- To internal structures including raised dining platforms and separate rooms for casinos, chill out area, Wii games room to name but a few.

Corporate Events

For your professional, corporate event we understand that the image of your company is paramount to the event.

- We are often approached by companies who want to hold their corporate event at their company; however, they are restricted on the size of their premises to do so.
- This is where a marquee structure solves the problem and can be set up within the grounds of the company or within an industrial warehouse and more often than not, linked to the main building.
- The marquee can be fitted out to suit your requirements and budget for the event, with a reception area including casual seating, a conference area for your presentation and finally a dining area to round off the day.
- We have our own qualified electrician who will work with your technical and sound production team or we can arrange this for you, ensuring your presentation runs smoothly.
- We will work closely with you to provide "the look" you are after and deliver a first class package to you, on time, within budget and with great customer service.

The Challenging Site!

Our marquee team will give me grief for promoting this area!, however, over the years the lads have provided such an excellent service of squeezing in marquee structures where other marquee companies have walked away from, that this part of our business has grown by word of mouth alone.

- Do you have ups and downs? We have covered gardens on various levels, which can be done with the use of suspended flooring to even out the “ups and downs” in your garden.

- Need a larger house, but only for a day? We can erect a marquee on your patio or terrace and link it to your home, when the party is in the house but you need to overflow.

- Farming diversification. A local farmer wanted to rent out a barn for a wedding. We added a marquee onto the front of the character barn, to act as a reception area and later a dance area, added heating and lighting to transform it into a lovely space, and the guests didn't even have to get their Jimmy Choos dirty in the farmyard as we linked a marquee from the barn to house the loos!

Dear David,

"We were thrilled with what you managed to pull off! Our terrace looked amazing, far better than I had dared hope. You were incredibly helpful and accommodating (and especially cheery!) We simply would not consider doing it without you next time!"
